

More Headache Patients Get Relief from Acupuncture

Seventy-three headache patients were surveyed about their knowledge, use and perceived effectiveness of several types of complementary and alternative medicine. Percentage-wise, more patients benefited from acupuncture than any other type of care on the survey.

SOURCE: von Peter S, et al. Survey on the use of complementary and alternative medicine among patients with headache syndromes. Cephalalgia 2002;22:395-400.